

I have noticed a disturbing change in recent years regarding diminishing diversity of opinion in our public media. This trend does not serve a democracy. If monopoly protections are weakened, the situation can only get worse.